GENERAL INFORMATION

Thank you for participating in EBR 2020. The virtual program is designed as a mock exam, with case-based questions emulating the format and subject matter of the ABIM’s Endocrinology, Diabetes, and Metabolism Certification Examination.

This course includes:

- comprehensive on-demand topical review sessions covering 220 case-based questions across the spectrum of endocrinology, including detailed answer rationale;
- ability to test yourself against your peers, with an individualized score report to identify areas to focus your studies;
- nine hours (three hours per day) of live topical Q&A sessions with the experts September 16–18, 2020; and
- the hard copy of Endocrine Board Review 12th Edition (2020), containing all 220 case-based questions with complete answer rationale.

CLAIM CME, MOC, OR RECEIVE CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION:

- Step 1: Visit education.endocrine.org/endocrine-board-review-2020.
- Step 2: Log In (upper right corner of page).
- Step 3: If claiming MOC, confirm your ABIM Diplomate number.
- Step 4: Click START to begin the evaluation.

Note: CME Credits and MOC Points should be claimed upon completion of the activity. Endocrine Board Review 2020 is eligible for 21 *AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)*TM and ABIM MOC Points.

TIPS FOR A SUCCESSFUL EBR 2020

Before getting started, please review these tools and tips.

Control Your Environment as Best You Can

- Mute other devices that might interfere with your computer audio.
- Create a learning-conducive environment, eliminating as many distractions as possible. Close out of other tabs and mute notifications, if possible.
- Prepare your space with anything you might need during the virtual program (appropriate chargers, note-taking materials, water, etc.).

Troubleshooting Technical Difficulties

If you experience any problems with our meeting platform, please contact info@endocrine.org or call +1.202.971.3646 (or toll-free at +1.888.363.6762).

LIVE Q&A SESSIONS

USE THE SCHEDULE PROVIDED BELOW TO ORGANIZE THE LIVE SESSIONS YOU WILL ATTEND DURING EBR 2020.

The live Q&A sessions offer the unique opportunity to engage with the experts and ask your most challenging questions.

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

Prepare to Join in Advance

- You will need to log in with your endocrine.org username and password in order to view the live program. Upon successful login, you will join the live program using Zoom webinar.
- Please test and check your system at least 10 minutes prior to the live Q&A sessions. This includes your network connection, device battery life, and speakers.
- We recommend you use a computer or a tablet for the best experience.

Engagement Through Q&A

Questions for the EBR faculty can be submitted through Zoom's Q&A function. You can submit your own question, or "upvote" a question already submitted by a fellow participant.
